MAN FALLS OVERBOAD NEAR BLACK POINT AND DROWNS.

Was One of a Party of Petaluma Pleasure Seekers--- Heroic but Fruitless Effort of a Companion to Save the Drowing Man.

A sad drowning took place near the railroad crossing at Black Point Sunday afternoon which converted a merry party of pleasure seekers into one of grief and mourning.

Tne party, consisting of several young men hailing from Petaluma, were returning from a trip on San Pablo bay in a steam launch and when nearly opposite Black Point Rudolph Lingg, one of the merriest of the young men, was thrown into the swirling waters by a sudden lurch of the boat.

He arose to the surface instantly and being a good swimmer struck out for the shore. When his companions, who had brought the launch to a standstill, thought the young man in no immediate danger from drowning, Lingg suddenly threw up his hands, and with a despairing cry sank to rise no more.

Henry Fredericks, who was one of the party, made a heroic effort to save the drowning man Throwing off his coat he jumped from the launch, which had been turned around and was within twenty feet of the spot where Lingg went down, and after swimming a few strokes and waiting for him to come to the surface Fredericks dived after the drowning man but was unsuccessful in locating him. In his efforts to save his friend the young hero came near meeting a similar fate, and his companions after dragging him aboard the launch revived him with the greatest difficulty.

At latest accounts the body of the young man had not been recovered. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lingg of Petaluma and aged 22 years.

The Apple Industry.

There is a general awakening among the apple orchardists of the Gold Ridge section and the Sebastopol Apple Growers' Union will be incorporated. There is not only a strong movement in favor of the apple industry in that section of Sonoma county as a main crop issue, but a wealth of enthusiasm based on the results obtained should accomplish splendid returns for the apple industry of the entire county.

Sheriff Smith Now an Inventor

Sheriff J. K. Smith has been awarded a patent for a dust protector and packing devise to be attached to the rear of an automobile. He has been using one on his machine, but few realized what it was. He will take out patents in foreign countries, as he believes it will be generally adopted when once its merits become known.

"What Socialism Is."

Prof. Martin Singer, president of the Sonoma County Board of Education, will deliver a lecture in Union Hall next Wednesday evening. His subject will be "What Socialism Is," and will no doubt draw a crowded house.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES NESTLE IN SONOMA VALLEY.

A Typical Country Residence near Sonoma.

Building activity throughout the valley is to be observed on all sides. This activity has not been confined to any one particular section but takes in a scope of territory extending from Sonoma to Schellville on the south to Glen Ellen on the north.

The result of this has been that many handsome residences, bungalows and cottages have sprung up like mushrooms the past few years in Sonoma and the towns and hamlets surrounding it. Numerous and attractive public resorts for the accommodation of the thousands who visit this valley for health and recreation have also added to the wealth and attractiveness of the prettiest valley in all California.

The principal reason for the many fine improvements that have been made in this valley of recent years is that its many attractions are slowly but surely being made known to the outer world through the efforts of the Northwestern Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads and the local newspapers.

Through these mediums the fame of our mineral waters, the healthfulness of our climate, the productiveness of our orchards and vineyards and our sparkling wines have been proclaimed and sent broadcast everywhere. And, now that the claims of the westerners to the right of the Panama-Pacific Exposition has been recognized by President Taft and the powers that be at Washington and the Metropolis of the Pacific chosen as its site, Sonoma Valley will, without a doubt, come in for more than its share of the benefits to be derived by every section of California through the medium of the greatest exposition the world will ever have known.

Being but fifty miles distant from the exposition site Sonoma Valley's many charms will become more widely known and it will receive a boost it is justly entitled to.

GUY J. K. BIGELOW IS SUED BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.

The Railroad People Demand Five Hundred Dollars Damages for Trespassing on Their Right of Way Near El Verano.

Suit was commenced in the Superior Court of this county Tuesday by the Southern Pacific Company against Guy J. K. Bigelow of El Verano. The suit was brought by the railroad people to enjoin the defendant from maintaining a water pipe line across their right of way and beneath the railway tracks of the plaintiff.

The complaint charges among other things that on October 15th, 1910, the defendent entered on the right of way of the Southern Pacific Company without permission at a point known as Engineer station, near El Verano; that defendant Bigelow laid and is maintaining a galvanized iron water pipe line across plaintiff's premises for the purpose of transporting water.

The plaintiff asks for damages in the sum of five hundred dollars, and that defendant be enjoined from using the water pipe line.

Hon. John A. Barham represents the Southern Pacific Company. As to what attorney Mr. Bigelow has hired to defend this suit we are not informed.

WOMAN AS WE KNOW HER.

With the realization of the seemingly most impossible dreams in the way of labor saving devices and conveniences it is interesting to speculate on the states of mind of our ancestors when they contemplated conditions under such a new order of things. The readjustments and division of labor which have entered into our industrial and commercial life are apparent and may have been foreseen by early students of economics and sociology. The layman probably was skeptical of what he considered only theories and so devoted little thought to the strides which were destined to revolutionize our manner of living.

For woman there is a new era, for her sphere was formerly very limited and, although small, was beset with cares and drudgery of which even the poorest classes are now free. Thus civilization has cleared the way for her to exercise her greatest gift of social utility, the bettering of the environment into which her children must be reared to man and womanhood. Four walls formerly limited her influence when maternal interest was confined greatly to the home; paternal influence abroad in the community and its institutions being exercised by the pater. A woman could not leave her spinning, her soap and candle making, her quilting and preserving. Necessity kept her mind in these channels, which precedent deemed so compelling that anything beyond was looked upon as unbecoming and extraordinary.

What happened when necessity, the mother of invention, sprung its Pandora-like surprises on the world and revolutionized our mode of living? Has woman deteriorated since her hands became more idle, her brain more busy? Has she become a lazy mother, a spoiled wife, a less fascinating sweetheart, a less promising child? On the contrary, modern feminity is a valuable jewel in the social casket and woman is thoroughly alive to the pursuit of happiness, though her conception of it is broader than formerly.

There are few drones among the great middle class of women today and by them shall we judge the nation. They are a busy lot. Age no bar. The grandmothers we know are the most progressive and sincere workers for broader and better things. They are tireless and their activity keeps them young. Gone are the rocking chair and cap of a decade ago. Appeareth now the willow plume, the desk and the gavel. If the rocking chair figures it is a very up-to-date affair of arts and crafts design selected by grandma to adorn the home and not as an old lady's comfort.

Present day mothers made possible by modern conditions are wonders. Their homes are ideal and they have time to apply their love of attractive and well ordered surroundings to their broader environment.

The daughters, many of them, are wage earners—teachers or nurses, or perhaps musicians—all contributing much to the society of which each is a unit.

The children, boys and girls, both are healthier and happier for the participation of their dear ones in community welfare, which includes the supervision of educational matters, the urging of health-giving conditions, the providing of parks and play grounds and a hundred kindred gifts.

Some men may mourn the old fashioned woman of ye olden times but they are in the minority and their sentiment (or senselessness) is not well founded. All hail the modern helpmate!

Hay Market for the First Week in March

Somers & Co. of San Francisco in their report of the condition of the hay market for the week ending March 1st, say:

"Receipts of hay still continue exceedingly heavy for this time of the year, a total of 3,347 tons arriving during the week just past compared to 3,575 the week preceding. This continual pressure of hay on the market has disturbed things very materially and the range of prices is lower with nothing to give any strength to the situation. Local trade conditions continue practically the same, the hay being moved only by hard work and much soliciting on the part of receivers.

"There is no apparent change in conditions in the country. Dealers are buying but sparingly on the most part, although holders of hay continue their efforts to sell but meet with little success naturally, under the present state of affairs. The fact that we have had no rain for the past couple of weeks caused some apprehension, for in some districts, particularly the highlands, the top of the ground was beginning to cake, although the present showers are most opportune and will benefit the coming crop materially.

"Alfalfa trade has not been very active of late, although the continuance of cold weather stimulates feeding and we are again beginning to see a more active demand for this article than we experienced a week ago.

"Straw is almost nominal here, very little being used, and but a small quantity being offered for sale, although there is considerable in the country on storage awaiting favorable opportunity for a market."

Rain Still Continues

This rain business is becoming irksome to our shop keepers, resort owners, those engaged in out-door occupations and suffering humanity in general. Ever since the preachers, on that memorable Sunday following the new year, asked the rain gods to give us more rain there has been a perfect deluge of the pluvial element. This week has been no exception to the rule and in consequence everybody wants a change and wants it bad, too. Even chain lightning or an earthquake or two thrown in for variety's sake would be a relief from this everlasting nasty, cold, drizzly and sloppy weather. Ugh! it makes one shiver.

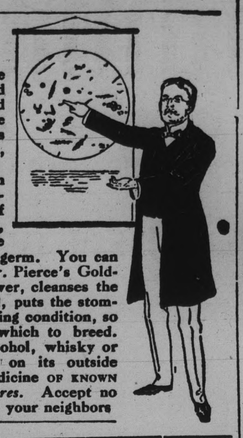
Afraid of Ghosts



Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors

An inquest was held in Santa Rosa last Monday over the skeleton of a man discovered in the mountains near Pine Flat one day last week. The jury decided that the man had been dead about three years and that he had committed suicide by shooting. There was nothing found near the remains by which he could be identified and the bleached bones found a resting place in an unmarked grave in the Potter's field.

SHOT AND KILLED IN PRESENCE OF HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN

James A. Acquistapace of Agua Caliente Murdered on Threshold of His Hotel by P. Bettini---Clever Capture of Murderer by Officer Ryan

James A. Acquistapace, owner of the Depot Hotel at Agua Caliente, was shot and almost instantly killed by P. Bettini of Santa Rosa last Monday evening.

The tragedy took place at the front entrance of the hotel about 5.45 in the evening and was witnessed by Mrs. Acquistapace, her two children and five of the boarders.

According to eye witnesses of the murder, Bettini, accompanied by a companion, drove up to the hotel in a light buggy a short time before the shooting and entering the bar room called for drinks. Both men were slightly under the influence of liquor and became quarrelsome and abusive. Finally when Bettini applied a vile epithet to Mrs. Acquistapace he was ejected from the hotel by her husband.

As Bettini was shoved through the swinging doors he suddenly turned around and shot Acquistapace on the very threshold of the entrance to the hotel.

After firing the shot he took to flight and was instantly pursued by his victim and his cousin, Peter Acquistapace. The murderer was overtaken after running a few yards and was seized by the latter and disarmed. At this juncture Mrs. Acquistapace, who had also followed Bettini appeared upon the scene, and faint from loss of blood and the exertion of following the murderer Acquistapace fell back into the arms of his wife and expired almost instantly. All this took place inside of a few minutes.

After disarming Bettini the murdered man's cousin then went to his assistance and assisted his wife in carrying him into the house. In the meantime Bettini jumped into his buggy and disappeared in the darkness.

The murder created great excitement and a phone message was sent to Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan in this place notifying him of the killing and the flight of the murderer.

In a short time the officer was on the scene of the tragedy and securing a clew as to the direction the fleeing man had taken was soon hot on his trail in a light buggy. Officer Ryan was accompanied by Jack Murray, and when the pursuers reached Fetter's Springs they abandened the rig for an automobile and chaffeur tendered them by the proprietor. After proceeding along the road leading to Kenwood they discovered that the fugitive had ditched his buggy near the Behler place and taken to the railroad track on foot. Then commenced a race to head him off. Reaching a point above Kenwood Officer Ryan jumped out of the automobile and accompanied by Murray started down the railroad track to meet the fugitive whom he was quite sure was heading towards Santa Rosa. Nor was he disappointed. After reaching a point about a mile below Kenwood he heard Bettini walking toward him, but as the night was intensely dark was unable to discern the man until he was almost upon him. Officer Ryan in order to throw Bettini off his guard called to him and inquired if he was on the right road to Sonoma, meanwhile approaching the unsuspecting murderer until he was near enough to seize him.

Bettini was then handcuffed and brought into town by the officers and locked up in the city jail. Thus was another capture placed to the credit of one of the most clever peace officers in the State.

The murdered man was well-known in this valley. He came here about 18 years ago and for fifteen years followed the occupation of a dairy hand. He worked on Victor Sartori's Fairville ranch and other farms in the valley and bore an excellent reputation. Three years ago he purchased a piece of property at Agua Caliente and opened the summer resort where he was killed Monday evening. He leaves a wife and two children. The deceased was born in Italy in 1872 and was 38 years of age.

The funeral took place Thursday the remains being interred in the Catholic Cemetery in this place.

P. Bettini, the slayer of Acquistapace, is a resident of Santa Rosa and about 25 years of age.

Bettini Charged With Murder

Coroner Blackburn held an inquest on the remains of the murdered man Wednesday forenoon and the jury impanelled to inquire into the manner of his death brought in a verdict of death from a gunshot wound inflicted by P. Bettini with criminal intent.

District Attorney Clarence F. was present at the inquest and immediately after the verdict filed a complaint in Justice Campbell's Court in this place, charging the accused with the crime of murder.

The preliminary examination of the slayer was postponed until a future date.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan took the slayer to Santa Rosa Wednesday afternoon and lodged him in jail to await the preliminary examination which will be held in Judge Campbell's court in this place at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Widow of Murdered Man Asks for Letters

Mrs. Anna Acquistapace, widow of James A. Acquistapace, who was shot and killed by P. Bettini Monday, has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of her deceased husband. The property is valued at not to exceed $7,500, the principal items being the Depot Hotel at Agua Caliente, worth $5,000 and some personal property including a small balance in the Sonoma Valley Bank.

The heirs are the widow and her two minor children, Camillo and Giacobe Acquistapace. Attorney H. P. Mathewson represents the petitioner.

ENCOURAGING NEWS TO PRUNE GROWERS

Reports Say That the Market for Prunes is Looking Good for Coming Season

Owners of prune orchards in this valley will be pleased to learn that the prices for prunes will be higher the coming season than for some years past. The California Fruit Grower, which is an authority on prunes, says:

"A further advance in prune prices is noted this week on the part of some holders, although small lots can be picked up here and there at last week's figures. There are occasional odd lots of small sizes to be had, but these of course have been practically out for some time. Wherever obtainable it is understood that 7 1-2c base is the price now on the small sizes.

"Owing to the scarcity of prunes all over the world, and the fact that stocks have been pretty well exhausted, European markets are understood to have recently made inquiry of California handlers for future prices in California prunes. No one of course is willing to touch any such proposition at this time of the year, as there can not even be a guess made as to what prunes will be worth in California the coming season."

ARAB ENCAMPMENTS.

The Crowded Tents In Which the Shepherd Warriors Live.

Arabs are true Ishmaelites. Their life is a constant wandering. They live entirely on the produce of their herds. Their tents are quickly taken down or put up and easy of transport. They are made of camel's hair, loosely woven, supported on poles or long guy ropes. They protect the occupants from the hot sun, but not from the rain, and in winter the encampments are uncomfortable places.

The interior is crowded with all the belongings of these shepherd warriors—camel saddles and gaudy saddlebags, rifles and ammunition, hunting dogs and falcons. The women occupy one half; the men use the other, partitioned off by a brightly colored curtain. The whole of the front of the tent being open, there is no privacy. The average tent measures twenty yards by six.

The chief of the tribe, however, owns many tents, and he has for his own use one giant structure, sometimes spread over a length of thirty-six yards. In his other tents the chief keeps his numerous wives, who have a certain proportion of their master's flocks and herds to look after. Having a separate tent for each wife, he thus does away with all chance of domestic quarrels.—Argonaut.

THREE YEARS LATE.

A Train That Won the Behind Time Record Medal.

A train of a railway system in the southwest once arrived at its destination nearly three years late. The circumstances were these:

The train left Bolivar, just across Galveston bay from Galveston, on Sept. 8, 1900, and was caught in the great storm that so nearly destroyed the Texan city. Bolivar is seventy-five miles from Beaumont, which was the point of the train's destination. Before the train had traveled far on its journey it was caught in the storm. Thirty miles of the track were washed away, and the train was left stranded on a sandy waste. Many persons who lived on Bolivar peninsula were saved from death by taking refuge in the train. After the storm subsided they walked to Bolivar with the passengers, but the abandoned train was left on the prairie.

The storm bankrupted the railway, and no effort to rescue the engine and cars was made until 1903. Had not the road suffered so seriously in that storm the property would have proved of great value a few months later, when oil was struck at Beaumont. In 1903, however, the road underwent repairs, when the train was drawn into Beaumont, where it was greeted by a cheering crowd.—New York Press.

The Diplomatic Room.

One of the most interesting and most visited places in Washington is the diplomatic reception room in the department of state, where the secretary of state transacts his business with the envoys of foreign governments. This room is close to the secretary's office and looks southward to the Potomac, the Washington monument looming up with stately effect at the left. Thursday of each week is set apart for the diplomatists, who are received in this famous room by the secretary of state or the official who may be acting in his absence. The room itself when not occupied by the foreign representatives is open to the public. In it most of our treaties of recent years have been signed, and many have been the notable assemblages gathered within its walls.—New York Press.

Eleven in a Bed.

In early Victorian times the workman was accustomed to rough it. Isabella Fyvie Mayo in her "Recollection" mentions that one flourishing firm of bakers—patronized by royalty—"kept eleven men and had only one bed for them all. During the twenty-four hours they occupied it turn and turn about. One of these unfortunates was generally in Charing Cross hospital, and the 'master' got a reputation for generosity by his yearly subscription to its funds."

Very Likely.

Albert—A dog that runs under a carriage is called a carriage dog, is it not?

Egbert—Certainly.

Albert—Well, what would you call a dog that runs under a motor car?

Egbert—Why, a dead one.

Economy of Time.

Friend—I say, one of your clocks is slow and the other's fast. Young Lawyer—Yes; I start work by the slow one and stop by the other.—Life.
